DEDICATION

Our Yearbook

Staff

is honored to dedicate the

-1963 MAZONITOR-

to

Helen Hoffman,

our sponsor

HELEN HOFFMAN

Teaching is an art--it is the language of love and understanding; it is the blending of discipline and patience; it is the molding of mind and soul into the form of a useful human being. It is to a successful and cherished artist that we, the members of the senior class, dedicate this MAZONITOR.

She has blended together knowledge, understanding, wit, humor, and skill to retouch our lives. Because she has been a patient artist, we have experienced beauty where before we could see none. Our lives have been richer because she took the time to paint with care.

CHAMPS

Behind the scenes of the finished Mazonitor are the members of a diligent staff.

Each year a freshman is approached by the yearbook adviser and asked if he wishes to be the Representative on the yearbook staff. For the next two years, he will be asked the same question. The Junior Editor still has the privilege of choice. The editor, working with the adviser, selects the working staff which is pictured on these pages.

The yearbook is financed by the work of the entire staff through subscriptions, advertising, and page sponsorships by classes and organizations.

This year the Mazonitor will cost more than $1040 or about $5.75 per book. Deadlines that must be met are February 1, April 1, and June 10. From summer planning on the "dummy" to the autograph party the following August---the work goes on.

Typists: J. Phillips, J. Swearingin, K. Henderson, C. Kanne, D. Cromwell, J. Small.

Place-----Living Room of Pringle Home

Time-----A summer day

Penny Pringle is attempting to win the starring role, Dimity West, in the movie, "Stars in Her Hair." With the aid of Greg's scheming, Kerry impersonates Harrison Day to trick her out of the part. Sally, with the help of her publicity agent, Norman Porter, is also trying to win the part. Lydia and Caleb are two too-busy parents who offer no interest in Penny's efforts.

Besides Penny's problems there is a brother, Mark, who wants to buy a farm, but hasn't the money, a grandmother who must raise her grandchildren, and a sister, Mavis, who is working very hard at a radio station, but getting nowhere.

Sally and Mark fall in love, Sally forgets her movie plans, and Mark acquires the chicken farm as a result of his father's new interest in him. Gram not only awakens Caleb, but also Lydia, to the responsibilities of being parents. Penny decides she must stay home to be near Kerry, and the real Harrison Day finds his ideal Dimity West---Mavis.

STORY

Richard Dill has been married while away on a business trip, and after returning home for a few days, he again departs, leaving a note telling his family he has been married. The new bride is expected to arrive at the Dill home, but Cousin Maude, whom they have never seen, will be arriving any hour, also. The Dill family decides to play a few tricks on Elaine so she won't want to stay.

Elaine arrives, and they carry out their plans, but then Cousin Maude comes, and she begins to think that they are mentally off.

Richard returns home, coming in and kissing Cousin Maude. It is then that they learn that Cousin Maude is Elaine, and Elaine is really Cousin Maude. It seems that Elaine and Maude are really very good friends.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1963

We, the Senior Class of M. V. K. High School, Mazon, Illinois, being of sound mind and body (?), do hereby make this our last will and testament.

- I, Diane Dedo, leave my love for asking questions to Ellouise Wilson and Jeannette Hauge.
- I, Jim Johnson, leave my anti-freeze pills to Ken McCoy and Paul Anderson for those cold days down at the corner.
- I, Shelly Eagle, leave my love for horses and one inch of my height to Dolores Drinan.
- I, Kay Henderson, leave my last jar of freckle remover to Duane Cromwell.
- I, Nancy Isham, leave my home-making ability to Sharon Bilsborough.
- I, Chuck Stitt, leave my lifetime membership in the C.B.A. (Confirmed Bachelors' Association) to Neal Sechrest.
- I, Janice Phillips, leave my cheering ability to Debbie, Sandy, and Linda.
- I, Jim Kraft, leave my mental slide rule to Pat Maskel and Kerry Gonnarn.
- I, Don Clavey, leave my smile, my serious philosophy, and my last toothless comb to Dave Biros and Tim Thetard.
- I, Judie Small, leave my pink cheeks and my blush to Gerry Sandeno.
- I, Patti Johnson, leave my basketball technique and a pinch of my quick temper to Lois Vodacek and Diann Isham.
- I, Jackie Finch, leave one knee sock to Linda Kilgore and the other to Mary Matteson.
- I, Alan Burkhart, leave my drag strip technique to John Williams and Davy Joe Welsh.
- I, John Lefton, leave my chemistry breakage bill and future explosions to Richard Pierce.
- I, Cheri Kanne, leave my ability to tell all secrets to Karen Bunton and my last ratting comb to JoAnn Johnson.
- I, Doug Nelson, leave my used roller-skate key to Cathy Biros.
- I, Jackie Crase, leave my gym towel to the forgetful Susie Harford.
- I, Ron Olson, leave my ability to get in and out of trouble to John Jones and Ken Klepp.
- I, Dianna Cromwell, leave my ability to believe I have lost my contact lenses to Barb Burkhart.
- I, Mick Irvin, leave my respect for a traffic ticket to Jack Mitchell and Dick Myers.
- I, Bill Coughlin, leave my twist-around-the-clock stamina to Pat Harty and Dennis Williams.
- I, Marsha Herman, leave my ability to wait to Cindy Dedo and my height to Beverly Gonnarn and Helen Hummels.
- I, Carol Sue Barr, leave my blonde curls to Elaine Ahearn and my last tube of blue eye shadow to Becky Burkhart.
- I, Bill Warning, leave my Missing Knee Cap Trophy to a fellow player, Jerry Hill.
- I, Dianne Bannon, leave my slow drawl to Judy Bryant and Pearl Finch.
- I, Albert Holmes, leave my love of adventure and travel and my Spanish tongue to Joey Zupancic.
- I, Judy Swearingin, leave my ability to get along with Coach Houchin to Wayne Arnold and Ken McCormack.
- I, John Esgar, leave my gift of gab and love of teasing to Dennis Dolan and Jerry Stitt.
- I, Denny Cleek, leave my Army Maneuvers and my shyness around girls to Jim Biros.
- I, Frank Francisco, leave my Blue Cross policy and my blood stains on the mats to Joe White.
- I, Carol Ann Sereno, leave my ability to figure out Dick Walker to Bonnie Walker, and the trials and tribulations of next year's yearbook to Kathy Gantzert.
- I, Don McCormack, leave my bookkeeping statistics to Ken Bannon and my speed in the baseball field to Bob Ashbaugh.
- I, John Rainsburg, leave my book of "Ten Easy Lessons on How to Play Hookey" to Bill Davies and Randy Thompson.

We, the Seniors, leave to the sophomores all the gripes and grudges we have collected over the past four years and our ability to put turkey on the menu and serve ham; to the freshmen all our excellent advice and three more years of fun; to the faculty and all of M.V.K. all our thanks for the past four years of education, memories, and fun.

. . . May old acquaintance be remembered, . . .

HISTORY by Marsha Herman

The Seniors of the class of 1963, scared and shaky, entered MVK High School with an attendance of 45 students. Our class sponsor, Mr. Clarke led us through our two main class projects, magazine sales and freshman sock hop. Our freshman officers were: Ronald Olson, president; Cheryl Kanne, vice president; Judith Swearingin, secretary; Jackie Finch, treasurer; and Student Council members Shelly Eagle and Dennis Cleek. Judith Small represented our class at the Corn Festival as attendant to the queen. This concluded our freshman year.

Scared, but a bit more secure, we entered our sophomore year. We had lost eight of our fellow classmates, but three new students stepped into their places, Patricia Johnson, Elizabeth Peverly, and Gerald Hill. Mr. Peverly, who had just joined the staff, and Mr. Verhaegle were our sophomore sponsors. Our class officers were: Ronald Olson, president; Dennis Cleek, vice president; Carol Sereno, secretary; Judith Small, treasurer; Carol Barr, reporter; Janice Phillips and Marshall Both, Student Council. This year Janice Phillips took the honor of being attendant to the queen. Our class treasury was at last beginning to grow through various money making projects.

Next we took the step to upper classmen. By no means were we scared and shaky this year. We would have a big year ahead of us, but we felt sure we would have no trouble making it through to our senior year. Eight students left us this year, and Patricia Harrington joined our class. We elected our officers and were off for a year of fun and success. Our officers were: Carol Sereno, president; Marshall Both, vice president; Jackie Finch, secretary; Kay Henderson, treasurer; Carol Barr, historian; Judith Small and James Kraft, Student Council. Marsha Herman received the honor of being attendant to the queen. Our junior sponsors were Mr. Beebe, another new member to the staff, and Miss Gehrke. Our first duty as juniors was to elect our class rings to wear in honor of membership in our school. Next was our junior play The Groom Said No! under the direction of Mr. Kinman. It was a great success and a great experience for those who participated. We now had to think of some money means. We decided to sell school pens and candy. The biggest duty of the year was now upon us, preparation of the Junior-Senior Reception, Ebb Tide. Many of us also took part in the production of Oklahoma.

At last, we were Seniors, we may have been the smallest class, 33; but you know what they say about small packages. Our classmates left us and Dianne Bannon joined us, and our good friend Albert Holmes returned to finish his senior year. Our class officers were: James Kraft, president; Carol Barr, vice president; Jackie Finch, secretary; Cheryl Kanne, treasurer; Marsha Herman, historian; Patricia Johnson, reporter; Janice Phillips, William Warning, William Coughlin, Student Council. Once again Janice Phillips had the honor of representing the class and school at the Corn Festival, but this time as Queen of MVK. Our senior sponsors were: Mr. Reed, Miss Mitchell, and Mr. Mennemeier. Our biggest school year was now in full swing; we worked hard at car washes, paper drives, magazine sales, coat checks, silent auctions, bake sales and many other money making projects. Our senior play, The Daffydills, again directed by Mr. Kinman, was well attended and brought satisfaction to our treasury box as well as many pleasant memories. We selected our trip destination, New Orleans; our prom theme, Beneath the Southern Stars; class motto, "Conduct and Courage lead to honor;" class flower, the red rose; and class colors, mint green and white. We were all quite excited when our senior pictures finally arrived. We again participated in the production of another musical, South Pacific.

Now we say good bye to MVK, and hello to a new way of life.

. . . And your cup of kindness filled . . .

CLASS POEM --by Judi Small

Days are few till we'll be all through
Our friends and pals, we all miss them--too true.
Our high school, our teachers, this friendship ne'er will cease
Our buddies, our classmates, our memories all remain, at least.

Carol Barr should be a good start
We all know she sure does her part
She's got pretty blonde hair--quite a doll,
And for her, the guys really fall.

Now Don Clavey is everyone's friend,
When you need a buddy--on him depend,
He's ready and willing--with a helping hand;
A real sweet girl someday he'll land.

I've often wondered what Don McCormack would be,
He'll probably own his own bank--just wait and see.
In school he knows all there is,
Everyone thinks, he's a whiz.

Well, here's Jackie Finch, nurse she'll be
She will take your temperature to the exact degree,
In her uniform she'll be clad in white,
For all the young interns, she'll be quite a sight.

Then there's the student, his name is Jim Kraft,
Get him started, and you'll laugh and laugh.
In the fall, he'll be off to Cornell
Here's a guy, who's downright swell.

Bill Coughlin is one that is every so tall,
When he's around, we all have a ball,
You mention dancing and he'll give you a twirl,
Bet he could get almost any girl.

Bill Warning, our basketball star,
In this sport, he's sure gone far,
But in bookkeeping, like all the rest,
He's trying to pass Mrs. Bryant's tests.

Kay Henderson is really quite a lass
When it comes to fun, she heads the class,
One thing she's got is sweet personality
And bubbling over with rascality.

Here's Mr. Holmes, his first name is Al
He's always got his eye on a gal.
He can be studious and oh--so quiet
But he can also raise quite a riot.

With sound advice, she's always there.
A fine little housewife soon she'll make,
She'll leave us then, and our hearts will break.

Dianne Bannon seems quiet and shy,
Whenever you see her, she'll always say "HI."
She's little and pretty and full of pep.
You'll always find her neat and well kept.

John Rainsburg seems always to be tardy.
He gets away with this, 'cause he's a smarty.
Have all of you people and John met?
Oops! look around, is he here yet?

Now our friend Mickey Irvin is far from quiet,
In fact, with him, you will have a riot,
He's quite a hot rod driver, this teen,
And I hear that his car is real keen.

Well, here's Carol Sereno, so petite and neat,
She's always smiling and oh, so sweet,
She also won the D.A.R.
In this, she'll surely go far.

Now we come down to Jackie Crase,
Always there at the right time and place
She's always willing to give a helping hand.
She's loyal as-can-be to the entire band.

Here we have Miss Cheri Kanne,
She's cute, smart, and quite zanie;
On Monday morning she fills us in
About the weekend and where she's been.

Now Shelly Eagle we must remember,
For in this great class, she's a grand member
Not pulling jokes, but laughing with the crowd,
Makes her like a mouse--quiet, not loud.

John Lefton is sure a real ace,
He's always there with a bright smiling face,
As a friend he's really on the top,
We all know him as the "cream of the crop."

Doug Nelson is not a very studious guy,
But he always does his part, you can't deny.
Always in adventure, always in wonder,
What will happen to him--we wonder.

From Patti Johnson we all get a whirl.
Pretty and nice, she's a mighty sweet girl.
A secretary she wants to be,
I'll bet her boss wants her to sit on his knee.

Alan Burkhart can be heard all around,
By the laughing roar, you'd think he was a clown.
Alan can laugh at anyone's joke or rhyme,
All you have to do is give him the time.

. . . Should old acquaintance be forgot . . .

Dianna Cromwell's beauty is no surprise
With contacts she has sparkling eyes;
These eyes do sparkle, these eyes do shine,
Around the little ones she's always kind.

Judy Swearingin, "Swervie," as she is named,
Those big brown eyes can never be tamed.
To our days she has added fun,
Her smile will give you the warmth of the sun.

Mrs. Nancy Isham, cute and sweet
And her grand husband she did meet.
For when he popped the question, she said "yes"
And for their happiness the preacher did bless.

Good-looking Ron Olson has a sharp car
And as a mechanic, he's really above par.
Though he's a student of equation and sign,
The wheel of a car you'll find him behind.

In Chuck Stitt's classes, he's really a whiz,
When you see his blond head, you know whose it is.
This fall he's going on to school
To learn all he can; he's nobody's fool.

Now here's a girl that's lots of fun
Like our Diane Dedo there's only one,
Who can laugh all the time and be a hit,
She is a riot you must admit.

John Esgar, we know he's not very tall.
But when he's around we are sure to have a ball.
In his classes he's always talking,
To the office he'll soon be walking.

Janice Phillips is a barrel of fun
If you need a buddy, she's the one,
A mischievous imp, smiles galore,
When she's around nothing's a bore.

Frank Fransisco is quite the guy,
He's big and husky, but a little shy,
When it comes to wrestling, he'll win the match,
He'll make some little girl a real good catch.

Jim Johnson now is next in line,
A handsome lad, he's ever so fine,
Everyone knows he's sharp as a tack,
When it comes to farming, he's got quite a knack.

Denny Cleek, the favorite of all,
Girls are with him in class, gym, and hall.
Watch out, girls, he's sure got a line,
Plus a car that makes him "big time."

Judie Small has pretty brown hair,
And to her appearance she takes good care.
Ready with a smile and compliments to pay,
She's busy making friends throughout the day.

Now that we have spent four years here,
Our buddies, our high school will always be dear.
Oh, the days when we all had fun,
They'll be just dreams when we are all done.

CLASS PROPHECY

June 15, 1975

Cheryl Kanne

Hello! This is Cheryl Kanne, and I have just arrived home after another one of my world tours as a traveling secretary for the L.M.B. Secretarial Service, Inc. This tour was definitely the most interesting of all because I happened to find a few of my former classmates of the Great Class of 1963.

My tour started in Chicago, where I found Dennis Cleek, current president of the Bachelor's Club, Chicago Branch. He is very busy there, and he is having a good time with his new '75 Pontiac. I also ran into two more classmates, Diane Dedo and Diane Bannon. They are partners in a company of song writers. Diane Dedo's latest hit is "My Guy" and Diane Bannon's is, "When He Works Six Nights A Week."

My next stop was Iowa City, where Jackie Finch is a Professor of Nursing. She is very happy with her work as a teacher of medicine. In the same town, I found Carol Ann Sereno who has replaced Ann Lander's popular column with one even better. She calls it, "Carol's Aids for Letter Writers." She is now a top-notch journalist.

The next point of landing was Dallas, Texas, where I was glad to see John "Lefty" Lefton and "Jimmy James" Johnson who, was not too surprised to find, are professional cowpunchers. Even though they are bachelors now, I doubt very much if they remain that way. Texas is a large state with a huge population, the majority being females. Next, I arrived at Kansas City,

... AND NEVER BROUGHT TO MIND ...

Kansas, home of John Esgar, first chemist to discover what makes flubber bounce. They say he is very successful in Kansas City. My plane landed in Reno, Nevada next. I found Bill "Speed" Coughlin in a likely place, Coughlin's Cough-It-Up-or-Get-Out-Gambling Saloon. They say he just made his 17th million. I finally arrived in San Francisco, California, and I went straight to visit Marsha Herman. She is very busy with her wardrobe designing business. She is a neighbor to Janice Phillip who is still waiting for that Commander-In-Chief William Warning of the Marine Corps. We all knew he would go far because of his enthusiasm as a recruit. Janice has opened a Wood Shop there, and her company slogan is, "Whittle Away the Hours While You Wait." I rented a car and drove to Los Angeles where I happened upon Shelly Eagle, designer of the ads for the miraculous product, "Vim"--"How to stay thin on 'Vims'" is her motto. I flew to Russia where everyone is talking about Don McCormack, zany mathematician who insists division by zero is possible. I guess things got too slow for him back in the States; Don was always one for excitement. I missed Chuck Stitt, Don's companion. I heard that he had just won the National Race in his Rocketmobile; he makes non-stop trips to the Moon daily, too. I landed in Paris next, and found Carol "Candy" Barr, dancer, entertainer. I always knew she would go far with that personality and smile. I arrived in Madrid, Spain, just in time for the bull fights. I just had to see Kay Henderson do her stuff. Yes, she has taken up fighting bulls, but then, I figured sooner or later she would get tired of horses and turn to something else. England was my next stop, and London is the home of Ron Olson, who always believed England was for the very English. Another resident of London is Alan Burkhardt who has just invented a new type of wheel--square--making it difficult for Alan Jr. to squeal those tires (as Alan Sr. did in his youth). In Greenland I found Judy Swearingin, and her husband who is a Professor of Geology. Now he is studying ice and she is helping him. I was going to say hello, but they were on a field trip when I arrived. I landed in Washington, D. C. next and was not surprised to find Patti Johnson, Executive Secretary to the President. Now she types a world record of 3,000 words a minute with only 4,000 errors. John Rainsburg lives there, too, and he has recently written another best-seller book. It is called, "Why I Got Fired" and it follows his other great, "How To Get More Time Off." I saw Don Clavey in Boston where he has recently opened a school on "Motion Study." He says his work is very interesting, and I agree that it must be. Next, I arrived at Annapolis, Maryland, Naval Academy, and I was surprised to see that Jackie Crase is the first woman student there. Next I happened upon Doug Nelson and Mick Irvin who have started a new society of Fresh Air Mechanics. They are living in the woods of Maine--in a tent--specializing in jalopy mechanics. I found Judie Small in Iowa, and she is very happy, having been selected as the best-dressed woman of 1975. She says that her hair styles added to her clothing to help her win the honors. Dianna Cromwell has opened a day nursery for child care in the same place. Her specialty is in 20-30 year old children. Her latest book is entitled, WHEN MOMMY'S AWAY, BABY WILL MISBEHAVE. Frank Francisco is in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He has taken up modeling on the side, and you will see him in all the magazines as the "man with the hat." He says his work has its advantages, too--undoubtedly being the introduction of many female models. My last stop before home was Canada. Jim Kraft (the modern-day Paul Bunyon) lives there. He set a world record for wood chopping getting a whole tree down in one day. He says the approach is the most important thing. Albert Holmes is living in Northern Canada. He is very successful there--his work is teaching the French, Spanish.

Now that I am home in Mazon, I see that things haven't changed so much, Nancy Isham was busy with her spring house cleaning. She has just received the honor of "Good Housekeeper of the Year," presented by Better Homes and Gardens Magazine. I have to sign off now, and get some rest. I leave tomorrow on the most exciting tour scheduled. I am to visit the planets and the moon for a secretarial space trip. See you in another 15 years.

(The will, prophecy, poem, and history were prepared by the Seniors to be read at the Junior Reception to the Seniors)

A REAL LEADER

You know her well, I am sure. She wears a perpetual smile and greets all comers with fellowship. Under her capable direction and leadership, our GAA has experienced another successful year of activities. She has been an excellent example of what our GAA should represent. She makes it a daily routine to practice good sportsmanship, good health, and genuine interest in all fellow students. Our president, Geraldine Sandeno, has been an inspiration to many and a friend to all.

LETTERMEN

Coach Houchin, Adviser; F. Francisco, Sec.; P. Harty, Treas.; B. Warning, Pres.; J. Kraft, V. Pres.; D. McCormack, Rep.

The M. V. K. Lettermen Club was organized by Coach William Davis in 1954. The object of the Club is to promote varsity athletics. Membership includes any high school varsity letter winners. The by-laws of the Club were drawn up by its members in 1960. Elections are held yearly at the first meeting. The offices are open to any eligible varsity-letter winner. Regular meetings are held the third Thursday of each month during counseling period. A jacket will be awarded by the Club to any boy that has participated in a sport for four years and received two letters in that sport.

The Student Council is designed to represent the entire student body throughout their school years. The representatives are elected along with class officers. The president is elected by the entire student body. This year a handbook was published by the Student Council and given to the students. This handbook contains all the rules and regulations abided by in our school, all the organizations, and general information. The purpose of the Student Council is to aid the student in any problems which confront him.

John
Good Luck.
Remember the fun
we had.

Jim.

John
Good luck
Good to you and
with all your girls
Good luck and don't do anything I wouldn't.
Don

John,
Lots of luck
out there in college.
Too bad you couldn't come to Illinois. We'd of had a ball.
Gron.

John,
Good luck &
the "nut" of the class.
Remember all the fun of our Sr. year - Be good to all the girls. Cherie

John,
I'll never forget that ever-famous
cow call on the Sr.
trip. Best of luck
always to a swell guy.
Never forget our great class.
Janice

John,
Best of luck to you
Best horse makes the class and ever have.
Love
Jackie

John, John,
I will never forget
you for how hard you know tried in Basketball. I know we were both awful clumsy as freshmen
Best of Luck
Speed.

John,
Remember the times
on the Senior trip when we were roommates.
Lots of luck to a guy
who could really bust things.

Jim Krabst.

John,
Don't ever forget that will "Senior
Trip" and "Your special call". Then there was Chemistry. Lucky for us all we didn't blow this dear old place
up. Won't blow up K.C.
Please! They tell me
it's pretty wild as is.
Ok - Dad - What Now??
